“I'm home” you told me on that day
And by me you stayed
Stopped by the stoplight you can't say
What you should've said

Not sleeping ‘til morning
Look at the pretty sky
It's only for a short year
Let's get out of this place soon

On the back road hesitantly
It's back again
But truly you didn't want to step on the little tiny cracks

Let's get out of this place soon

In iolite, waiting for you
In iolite, for you to come back soon
In iolite, waiting for you
Until you return, I'll wait here forever

What was hanging on my small life line
Was your beating heart
Let's just stop right here for right now
Let's just go a little further

Not sleeping ‘til morning
Look at the pretty sky
It's still for a short year
Let's get out of this place

In iolite, I'm still waiting
Until you return, I'll wait here forever

Just another day
Just another year and
A thousand more days
And thousands more to come soon

Here with me and you
Ah
